WELCOME

to the Christmas Grand Sale

From the editor

Nothing is guaranteed to better get you in the mood for the magical day itself, than shopping for your perfect Christmas gifts all under one roof. As dedicated fans of both shopping and celebrating the festive season, we at The English Home are delighted to be sponsoring this year's gloriously enjoyable diary event. From the perfect Christmas wreath to adorn your front door, to beautiful jewellery, crafts, furniture and toiletries, as well as edible delights both useful and memorable, we hope the day will fill you with seasonal inspiration.

Kerryn

From the organiser

The Christmas Grand Sale was the first comprehensive festive fair in London when it began seventeen years ago. Now, as then, it is unique in gathering together under one roof the finest companies, carefully edited by the same team who have been responsible for this event since its inception to ensure variety and quality without duplication. We hope you have an enjoyable day perusing the event.

SHOPPING HIGHLIGHTS

With so much on offer at this year's Christmas Sale, we've hand-picked some of our favourite festive buys to inspire your shopping experience

CASHMERE CARE...
This essential kit by Total Wardrobe Care contains everything to care for the most coveted cashmere. The box includes one cashmere storage bag, one bottle of laundry liquid, one fabric comb and one essential oil drawer sachet, priced £22, a saving of £5 on buying the items individually.

BEAUTIFUL WREATHS...
Create the perfect seasonal welcome with a stunning wreath for your front door, made to order from fresh flowers and foliage. The Original Wreath Company offers a beautiful range priced from £30 to £90 depending on size and design. Sizes vary from 30cm to 50cm. Last online ordering date will be 12 December.

CHEERY CHINA...
Illustrator Sophie Allport has translated her popular Busy Busy Bumble Bee range into kitchenware that includes aprons, oven gloves, tea towels and tea cosies as well as fine bone china. Perfect for kitchen connoisseurs who appreciate lively, witty designs. Busy Busy Bumble Bee Filtered Teapot, £25.20.

FESTIVE FRAGRANCE...
Reed diffusers provide long-lasting scent for any home. These in olive and fig will add a warm, delicious fragrance to a room in need of some festive cheer. Heyland and Whittle Olive and Fig Reed diffusers, £20 for 100ml and eight reeds.

SHOPPING HIGHLIGHTS

Here are some more perfect present ideas for friends and family to be found at the show, or why not pamper yourself with a seasonal treat?

TEMPTING TIPPLES...
The perfect gift for discerning food and drink lovers, these miniatures of organically infused vodka come in mouthwatering flavours. Combine any three from a choice of horseradish, cucumber, elderflower, blackcurrant and sloe. £10 for three 5cl gift-boxed miniatures, Godminster.

SHEER INDULGENCE...
Using natural ingredients and essential oils with therapeutic properties, the Oo La La Luxury Gift Box includes a decadent body cream and scented aromatherapy candles together with gentle bath milk and rich handmade soaps for a complete pampering experience. Surrounded by rose petal potpourri, this gift box is guaranteed to delight. Special prices start at £39.99 (normal retail prices from £79.99).

DECADENT PUDDINGS...
The Carved Angel has launched a new range of Christmas Puddings inspired by an original Victorian recipe to which they've added their very own special twists. Luxury White Chocolate and Cranberry and Rich Chocolate and Ginger puddings are light, moist and hand-tied with a muslin cloth. Available in two sizes: 340g (serves 2-3 people), £10, and 680g (serves 6-8 people), £16.

FAMILY FAVOURITE...
At The Christmas Cake, the Edmiston sisters Pandora, Portia and Scarlett make a very special, secret family recipe, perfected over three generations. Carefully selected fruit is soaked in cognac before baking and maturing over a long period of time, ensuring a shelf-life of at least a year.
Prices start from £55 and cakes can be sent around the world.

FIRED EARTH

Esse FP:Layout 1 28/10/08 16:07 Page 1

It cooks food perfectly.
It is clean, controllable and carbon neutral.
It can heat your domestic hot water.

It's a Woodfired ESSE.

A cast iron range cooker that runs on logs is a nice 'environmentally friendly' idea but it must be messy and difficult to live with mustn't it?

Well no actually, our Woodfired cooker is very simple. What makes it unique is a highly efficient woodburning firebox, specifically designed with the needs of the range cook in mind. It burns very cleanly incinerating almost all of the fuel, creating less ash and reducing soot in the flue ways. And a large capacity (swallowing logs up to 45cm) means refuelling is less frequent leaving you to concentrate on feeding your family and not the cooker.

Like all ESSE's the Woodfired is an outstanding range cooker offering good levels of control and rapid heat up times.

You can also add a Plus2 module (shown) that doubles the ESSE's cooking capability allowing you to cater on an epic scale or have an electric alternative in the summer months.

The Woodfired should be considered for its cooking prowess first and foremost, but is also available with a boiler that will heat all your domestic hot water and 'assist' a properly integrated central heating system.

If you think about it, a true range cooker with a small carbon footprint, that can reduce your fuel bills and also has a unique pedigree that dates back over a century and a half ... it's got to be a Woodfired ESSE.

BRINGING comfort and joy

WellChild
the national charity for sick children

WELLCHILD IS A UK-BASED NATIONAL CHARITY WHICH SUPPORTS SICK CHILDREN AND THEIR FAMILIES THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY

WellChild has been dedicated to helping sick children for more than 30 years, providing support for children and families as they deal with the consequences of serious illness and complex conditions. The charity's mission is to help as many children and young people as possible by focusing on the three key areas of care, support and research.

"Children are our future and, quite simply, we are committed to helping as many as we can, year after year," says WellChild CEO Kedge Martin.

"The WellChild network is getting stronger all the time, and our supporters across the country have never been more dedicated. We all share the common belief that every child should have the best possible quality of life, and the opportunity to have the best possible care."

WellChild Children's Nurses play a unique and vital role in the way that they help children, young people and their families. One of their key objectives is to get as many children as possible back home and to reduce the number of hospital re-admissions. The growing team of nurses work with health professionals to ensure that the road back home is as smooth as possible. Many children will have spent months, or in some cases years, in hospital. They work closely with the families involved; training them in the use of special equipment and offering support and advice throughout the course of what is often a long and challenging process.

"No two children are the same," adds Kedge. "The growing team of unique WellChild nurses are crucial to all the families they're involved with."

Abigail's parents have been supported by WellChild. They say: "If it wasn't for the WellChild nurse I don't know how we would have coped. Because of all the special care that our little girl needed it was so difficult to ask people to help. For a while we felt very alone, but now with help from the nurse, things are so much better and we thank her so much for just being there for the family."

HELPING HANDS

The WellChild Helpline gives anyone and everyone – children, parents, grandparents, siblings, teachers, carers etc – the chance to speak directly to qualified nurses in complete confidence.

"Sometimes talking to friends, family or carers about a health problem isn't an option. But it's always good to receive advice and information from someone you can trust," says Helpline Manager Jody Blake. The charity's Helping Hands scheme enlists the support of volunteers from organisations around the country to tackle home development projects – helping families in truly practical ways.

As Abir's parents said: "We are so pleased with the outcome of the project. We have not seen Abir respond to his surroundings so positively for two years, it is amazing, thank you so much."
